Woodland House Hotel

A historic hotel in beautiful countryside on the edge of Dumfries. If you're visiting us for business or for leisure then you'll enjoy a relaxing, peaceful stay with tasty food and a very warm welcome.

Woodland House Hotel is a privately owned, family-run hotel. Our goal is to delight you with traditional hospitality and values, whether you're considering us for an overnight stay, a meeting or conference, a function or wedding or simply a relaxing meal out.

All our guest bedrooms are located in a new wing and have been designed and furnished to an exceptionally high level to create a comfortable home-from-home experience. The bedrooms and en-suite bathrooms are very spacious and carefully chosen furnishings, such as hardwood furniture and sumptuous fabrics, will assure you of a luxuriously comfortable night's rest.

Woodland House Hotel is a Grade B listed Georgian mansion which is being sympathetically restored and extended. Conveniently situated at the edge of Dumfries our guests enjoy all the tranquillity of dark starry skies and a rural retreat, with all the convenience of a well situated hotel in southern Scotland's largest town.

Holiday Inn

A comfortable Dumfries hotel next to Easterbrook Hall, with an all-day restaurant and a lounge bar. Holiday Inn Dumfries hotel places you a 10-minute drive from the market town of Dumfries. In the town centre, Dumfries station is served by direct trains to Carlisle and Glasgow. The hotel offers complimentary parking and is within easy reach of the A75 road, leading to the A74(M) motorway.

Business travellers can host meetings for up to 80 delegates in 3 flexible meeting rooms, while major events and conferences at Easterbrook Hall are right on the hotel's doorstep. A short walk away, Crichton Golf Club is the closest of many courses in the area. In Dumfries, a short drive from the hotel, the Robert Burns Centre Film Theatre displays the poet's original manuscripts, as well as screening the latest cinema releases. The ruins of medieval Sweetheart Abbey are only 8 miles away, and a 30-minute drive takes you to rambling or mountain biking trails through the Forest of Ae.

The hotel's bright restaurant, The Bankend Bar & Brasserie, serves a hot buffet breakfast, as well as lunch and dinner prepared from locally sourced produce. In the evening, relax in an armchair in the glass-ceilinged lounge bar with a cocktail or a dram from our whisky collection.

TRAVEL INFORMATION

Dumfries and Galloway is located in the Southwest of Scotland. The Region is rural but has various airports and train stations for visiting teams to enter into the Region.

Trains

Dumfries and Galloway has both local and national rail connections. The train station is in the heart of the town and a short walk from two of the chosen accommodation providers. If competitors choose to travel by train the OC shall arrange for collection from the train stations at either Dumfries or Lockerbie and transfer to the accommodation provider. Utilising the train system will provide competitors with the most relaxing transfer to Dumfries and allow visitors to view our spectacular country.

Transport & around the town

Our accommodation providers have been selected due to their proximity to the curling venue. The OC feel this will provide competitors and spectators with the best opportunities to explore by foot the delight of the town. Public transport is excellent around the town.

Air

Dumfries is within easy reach of a number of airports, both in England and Scotland. Glasgow, Manchester and Newcastle are all international airports with a wide range of destinations, while others serve a more limited number of destinations, but offer budget flights. The table below details the names of the airports available and their proximity to the venue.
